

HANDICAPER'S SELECTIONS - Les

Saturday October 13 (12:30 PM Post Time)

Race 1 2-7-6

Beach Cloud He's picked up his game the past month hitting the board in four of five and putting up times unmatched by his rivals. Top call.

Love In Paradise The seven hole is a big obstacle to overcome but she's facing a pretty soft field so any kind of racing luck at all makes her a top contender.

J J Antonio He'll likely have to come from off the pace after drawing out here but he's a strong finisher so give him some live cover and see what happens.

Race 2 4-5-2

Windemerebarrister She hasn't been out of the top three since teaming up with Walter but she just can't seem to find her way back to the winners circle. One of these times everything will go her way.

Little Miss Winnie Draws outside but it's a compact field and it's hard to overlook that eight for nine top three record. She'll give them all they can handle.

Gettin Messi Got a little sideways past the half last time which caused him to lose his first career win on a dq. Continues to improve though and looks like a solid tri candidate in here.

Race 3 5-1-2

Painted Pony Dropped to this level for his latest and responded with a solid second place finish. Since there are none in here like the one that beat him he's quite possibly the one to beat.

I D K Got some class relief for his latest but was only able to earn the smallest share. With the rail for this one his second try at this level could be more productive than the first.

Casimir Nunzio Dropped for his latest which is pending and with this being the same class use that one as a guide before heading to the windows.

Race 4 3-1-2

Mile Hill Willie Toyed with his rivals in the Breeders Crown for his fourth straight win. With horse and driver both being so hot it's a combination that's hard to go against.

Dusty Lane Titan Lost all hope with the break last week as the chalk but those things happen to young trotters. Moving to the pylons today gives him a chance to redeem himself.

Oceanview Hal Still hasn't won a race but he's hit the board in half his starts this year and that pays some bills. The favourable post today gives him some credibility.

Race 5 2-5-3

Likely To Win When was the last time anyone can remember him being this low on the class ladder? He could run and hide from these if he brings his "A" game.

Diggin In He cracked the top three in his last two starts and since each of those was at a level higher than this he's a force to be reckoned with in here.

Howmacs Dragonator He was basically a non factor last time but he drops a notch today and moves five spots to his left which makes him possible tri material.

Most probable Likely To Win

Race 6 4-8-2

Dusty Lane Zendaya She's been struggling to make ends meet but she gets an improved post for this one and Corey at the controls so we'll treat her as the one to beat.

Dilans Mustang He's severely compromised by the draw but the calibre of his camera shy opposition could offset it. A top three finish is certainly not impossible if the trip works out.

The Gormanizer Finished second the last time he raced in this class so we'll give him the nod to complete the tri after a process of elimination.

Race 7 1-5-7

Lincoln Seelster After a third place finish last week out of the seven hole he gets rail control this time around so there could be nothing to stand in his way.

Oceanview Magnum We're just not sure what to expect from this colt in his first start off the bench. He was really good as a juvenile and comes into this one off a decent qualifier so he's worth considering.

Gringo Star He's got the speed to argue but it's hard to guess what kind of trip he'll get from out here. The right one could put him right in the thick of it.

Race 8 6-9-4

Jetster With his rallying style the post isn't a big deal and if he gets some live flow and a cover trip to bring him into it late his chances go way up.

Allstar Man Predictable result last week for his first start in a year. It was a pretty good effort though, and if he can build off it he's a legitimate contender.

Fly With Max Put up the white flag at the half last week after being parked to a quick opening quarter. He'd been pretty good prior to that though and with a smoother journey today he could be part of the equation.

Race 9 4-3-5

Tobinator Not lining up against the bearcats could make all the difference in the world. This is still a good group but if he's as sharp as he was two starts back when he earned a new mark he'll be hard to deny.

Red Magician He finished second to one of the hottest horses on the grounds last week and there's no shame in that. Be prepared for him to be right in the hunt again.

The Big Bite He's failed to crack the top three only once in his last six starts and appears to have a good shot at adding another on the board finish to that total.

Longshot play IC True Grit

Race 10 4-6-5

West River Ambyr She's been second or third in four of her last five so she appears to be sitting on a win. If she's close at all when they turn for home and whips off another of those 28 second final panels it could come today.

Collective Wisdom Her top three streak came to an end in her latest but the first over trip was a contributing factor. If she can pick up some cover today instead of providing it she could get back on the ticket.

Prettydangerous Gets a slightly better post than she had in her last two and while she hasn't been quite as sharp as she was last year, she's still a threat so ignore her at your own peril.

Race 11 2-3-5

Winter Blast He dominated from start to finish last week and is rewarded for that performance by dropping a notch on the class ladder. Since he looks like he should be able to control this one as well we won't rule out a repeat.

Heart And Soul He wasn't that far off in his last two so the drop in class coupled with an improved post could put him right in the picture.

Harbourlite Jerry Raced at this level two starts back and the result was an impressive new speed badge. He's so consistent that you gotta think he'll give a good account of himself again.

Race 12 4-6-5

Czar Seelster This is a powerful threesome that's been dominating this class since OHW and it's just a matter of who's turn is it this week. We'll go with this guy since drawing inside his two main rivals could be the difference maker.

Rose Run Quest He was out uncovered for half a mile last week and still drove off in the stretch. Off that performance he looks like the one to beat but it's just so hard to double up in this class we're calling for the deuce.

Euchred Speaking of doubling up he's the last one to do it so we all know what he's capable of. Put in some steps last week but Adam got him settled quickly and while we're picking him for third, realistically, any of the top three spots could be his.

Race 13 4-3-8

Ultimatelyhandsome Hasn't looked totally out of place against some high level opposition and just take a look at the horses he beat in that OHW start. Beware.

Mick Dundee The inside post should see him spotted fairly handy the front which seems to increase his chances of a good result big time.

Nogreatmischief The eight hole significantly hurts his chances for a win but don't lose sight of the fact that he's been charted in 56 and change in four straight starts. He could have some say in the outcome but trip will be key.

Value play Ultimatelyhandsome
