

Post Time Picks By Peter MacPhee

Thursday, October 22 (6:00 PM Post Time)

Race 1 2-1-5

Fern Hill Flame She was interfered with early last time but recovered to finish a bang up second. Kenny had five winners in Summerside on Sunday and he could get another one in the opener tonight.

Fern Things Strong effort last out where she sat in the pocket for most it and just missed getting it all. Lands on the pylons and will be tucked in again so we'll call for the silver.

Pleasing Pink We don't know much about her but she is coming off a solid qualifier finishing third and charted in 2:00.3. Adds dash leader Campbell and if she closes in 29 and change will be part of it.

Race 2 3-4-6

Paythelinebluchip Drops a couple of notches for this one and lands in a prime time spot. She should be able to get away handy the front and if the trip works out could score win number four on the season.

Gia Diamond Another newcomer to PEI who already has five wins on her resume. We think David may be aggressive off the wings and if they do clear could be hard to track down.

Bayside Alexis Pretty good effort from the rail where she tracked along finishing third and charted in 1:57.3. She takes a slight dip and Kenny returns so they could get the show dough.

Race 3 4-1-3

Rollwithitannie Made an early miscue last start but overcame it and just missed by a length at the wire. Mid pack post tonight and she's going to get a trip so don't be shocked to see her hit the wire first.

Sun On The Beach She almost got there last time only to be collared by J J Kinley at the finish. Lines up in the same spot and Marc is back so be prepared for another good result.

J J Kinley That was a nice win on October 15th where she stormed home in 29.3 to reach up and get the gold. Coming off that victory she deserves respect and a spot on the ticket.

Long Shot Play Nancys Girl

Race 4 2-3-5

Good Luck Kathy Take a look at that start four back where she raced this level and just got nipped at the wire. Finally gets an inside post and Brodie is back in the race bike so we'll put them on top.

Outrageous Spirit Just wasn't her day last time where she faded to an eighth place finish. Prior to that that she was sharp and Barrieau returns so we predict she bounces back into the top three tonight.

Evening Maelstrom She does have a couple of wins this season and gets a better post for this start. If Kenny can keep her close until the top of the stretch she can fire home and grab the bronze.

Race 5 2-1-3

Ill Tell Me Ma Got a great trip last week and zipped down the passing lane to win in 1:56.3. She's rolling right now and check out those last five chart lines...expect her to be first or second again.

Shes Got Game Scratched out of her last one but that was an impressive qualifier at Truro winning in 1:57.1. Looks to have the step to compete and will be covered up so we think she gets the deuce.

Akrotiri We liked that start two back where she got to the front and was a winner in 1: 58.1. She should be well positioned off the gate and those closing quarters say a lot so we have to include.

Race 6 4-5-3

Suicide Shift He's dropping down in class and the last time he raced this level was a winner. Gets a good spot to work from and he can still scoot home so we think Steven gets him there tonight.

Scary Good He enjoys racing at this level and was a solid second two back charted in 2:01. He gets the same class, same post, same driver, and maybe the same result.

Whim Road Gem She's a bit of a risky play but has the talent to go with this group. We'll wager Jack can keep her trotting and if he does she could offer up a nice price to round out the tri.

Race 7 3-1-2

Kwicky Kwanzaa Raced big last out when he made a move and lost his cover but still hung on for the silver. That was a confidence booster and he remains at the same level so we think he goes one better tonight.

Whosurwinner Great effort three back where he drafted the entire way and just missed in a blanket finish. Looks to be in line for a similar trip and if he gets it will hit the board again.

Likely To Win He's been living on the edges in his last few but not that far away either. Takes a minor drop and will get another smooth journey that could land him in the top three.

Race 8 6-3-2

Cheeky Little Minx She's raced well since arriving on PEI and gets to avoid the Open trotters tonight. Back outside for this one but we're confident Gilles will map out a trip and get her to the winners circle.

Osprey Delta The partnership with Brodie has been working out well and they did close in a snappy 28.3 last time. She rarely misses the top three and with the way she's racing we can't leave her out.

Majian Tango We liked the way he finished up last time closing in 29.3 and looking more like his old self. He lines up in a good spot and will likely be coming from the back so expect him to have a say late.

Most Probable Cheeky Little Minx

Race 9 1-4-6

Miss Sangria Has missed the board in her last two both from outside posts. Lands on the rail and you have to think she's going to get a great trip so be ready for a big time bounce back.

Hurricane Hill She's racing great and seems to be right there every week. Moving on up again and gets a new pilot but her form is excellent and she's back on our ticket.

Mrs. Dragonfire That was some effort from the six hole when she came first up and finished a game second closing in a brisk 28.3. Back outside but if she does that again she'll get a piece of it.

Value Play Dreas Good Powow

Race 10 4-5-3

Mile Hill Willie He's putting together a terrific season with six wins from ten starts and a record of 1:56.3. Barrieau is back tonight and he's had success with him in the past so we think they win again.

Freddie Blasted off the wings and cut it all out winning in an impressive 1:57.2. He's been razor sharp for the past month and don't forget he's won 20 times over the past two seasons...major contender.

Glider Man He's been right there in his last few just missing the top three. Should be able to track most of the way and if you're searching for value this could be the one to put on the ticket.

Race 11 4-3-6

Temagami Seelster She's a six time winner this year and just missed at the wire in her last start. She gets a slightly better post and with Brodie back at the controls we think they get it all.

The Time To Win Three in a row for this mare and looked mighty impressive doing it. Has to move up again and Campbell gets along well with her so we aren't about to leave her out.

Southwind Ion When you look at her stats she's put together a pretty nice season. We're playing a bit of a hunch but the price will be right so you may want to put her in your tickets.

Race 12 1-3-4

Tell Me Why Was a rock solid second three back and closed in a swift 28.1. Lands on the rail again and could pocket ride the whole way and may even reach up and win.

Dancers Pass Hasn't missed the podium in her last three starts. We're betting David will be firing off the wings and if they do boss it could be hard to reel in.

J J Gracie Never really got into it last time and finished seventh. She does have six wins this year and a record of 1:56.1 so we think she may rebound and land back in the top three.
