

Race 1 3-2-7

Good Luck Kathy She hasn't been able to find the top three in her last couple but was racing at higher levels. Gets an inside post and adds Barrieau so that could be a winning combination today.

Howmac Blaze Raced better on Tuesday when she was sent to the front and led for a long way only to be nailed at the wire. The strategy may be the same in here and if they do clear will be tough to track down.

Mrs Dragonfire Been living on the edges in her last two starts but not that far away from hitting the ticket. Drops down the class ladder and is back outside but we think she gets a trip and nabs the show dough.

Race 2 4-3-5

Atufflittleguy He came second over on Tuesday night and rallied to finish a solid third. Gets a mid pack post and is knocking on the door for that first career win...could happen today.

Game Of Change We loved the way he finished up last out when he came flying home in 29.1 and just missed hitting the board. Same post and same driver and if he does that again could be first or second.

Rave Review Finished on the fringes last time but did close in a good 29.3. She gets a slightly better post today and if Corey can keep her in the mix they could rally late and round out the triactor.

Race 3 4-6-7

Outrageous Spirit Check out that start two back where she drafted all the way and was a winner over an off track. There is speed to her inside but we're wagering Adam will be close to the front and get her to the wire first.

Clare Hall Hanover Takes a minor dip for this one and don't forget she was a five time winner in 2020. It won't be easy from out here but we're confident Gilles maps out a trip and gets up to grab the silver.

Hurricane Hill She's another one that is dropping down and has to race from post seven. Those closing panels say a lot so we think they come calling late and are a factor at the finish.

Race 4 5-6-4

The Time To Win She's been oh so close in her last two starts just missing both times. Remains at the same level and if she fires home in 29 and change again don't be shocked to see them smiling in the winner's circle.

Traces Of Purple That was a super effort on New Year's Eve where she controlled every step of it and was a gate to wire winner. She may not get that trip today but Kenny is rolling and we think they hit the podium again.

Warrawee Ulla She hasn't had much to cheer about lately but has been battling outside posts for the past three weeks. Lands in the mid pack and will get a better journey so it may be wise to put them in your tickets.

Value Play Back In The Game

Race 5 2-9-3

Howmac Missy Drops a couple of notches for this assignment and lands in a prime time spot. We're betting David will want to call the shots and if they do set up shop on the front end could go coast to coast.

Pacific Delight Made an impressive return to the Maritimes on Tuesday when she cut it all out and hung on to win in 2:00. She has to race from the back tier today but that that was a confidence booster so they're back on our ticket.

Vintage Winner We liked that start two back where she tracked all the way and finished third. Takes a slight drop and gets a favourable post so they could have some say before it's over.

Race 6 5-4-6

Babbling We don't know much about him but he did race well two back at Woodbine Mohawk Park finishing second and charted in 1:56.1. Makes the move to PEI and adds Dowling so we think they land on the line first.

U Bettim Watching We went him on Tuesday and he delivered storming home late to get it all. It was a sharp effort and if those breaking issues are behind him they look to be contenders again.

Windemere Albert That was some performance from post seven where he raced great and just missed in the final strides to Desired Treasure. Gets a new pilot and post six but coming off an effort like that we have to include.

Race 7 6-8-3

Power Of A Cruiser Finished a close fourth last out and now drops a couple of levels for this start. Just a reminder he did have the most victories and the fastest win time on the page in 2020 so we think he gets there today.

Flash In The Pang Hasn't been able to find his game of late and been off the board in three straight. They have to race from the fence but he has to turn it around at some point...maybe today.

Woodmere Soul He was a solid third two back and just missed the ticket on Tuesday night. Should be well positioned off the gate and if he's handy when they turn for home could add a top three finish to his totals.

Long Shot Play Windsun Rebel

Race 8 4-6-8

Slide Guitar He's another one who's been on the edges but not that far way from contending. He's also sliding down the class ladder and is going to get a trip so be prepared for a good performance.

Harbourlite Jerry Raced great again Tuesday and almost got there only to be collared by a fast closing Doc Darryl. Remains at the same level and one of these times everything will go his way...why not today?

Painted Pony Has missed a cheque in his last four but was up against some pretty good company. Has to race from the grandstand side but if you don't want to play the chalk and are searching for value this could be the one.

Race 9 1-2-6

Woodmere Chella Raced terrific in her return to PEI where she came firing home and was just nipped by Dreamfair Zenfire. Gets rail control today and you have to think she's going to get a great trip so we're putting her on top of the ticket.

Woodmere Skyroller What a great season she had in 2020 with 12 wins a record of 1:54.3. She's also done very well against the open mares and with Barrieau at the controls we expect more of the same today.

Larjon Legacy Finished fifth in her Red Shores debut and closed in a solid 29.2. Moves outside but looks to have the step and with Dowling in the bike we think they have a large say in the outcome.

Race 10 4-6-2

Creepin He set some brisk early fractions last time and was still able to secure the bronze. Gets post four today and we think David will be aggressive off the wings and be on or near the lead at the start and finish.

Hunger Pangs That was an excellent trip in his return to PEI when he closed in a snappy 27.4 and finished a strong third to Screen Test. Gets Bradley today and this is a good group but we predict he comes flying late to get the deuce.

Spack Jarrow When you look at his lines he's right there every start week in and week out. Gets a great post to race from and the price will be right so we think they get a piece of it.

Race 11 6-5-2

I C True Grit Check out that start three back where he just missed in a blanket finish. Gets the same level and a similar post for this one and with the way he can close don't be surprised if they reach up and get the gold.

Agood Time To Rock He's rolling along right now and just wired them for his fourth straight win on PEI. The partnership with Kenny has worked out well and with the way he's racing it could be five in a row.

Shadow Of A Daut That was an excellent trip last time where he had the lead late and finished a game second to Revenant. Drops a couple of levels and should get a smooth journey so we'll call for third.

Race 12 3-5-2

Arc Light She's been off her game for the past three weeks and made a costly break last time out. She also hasn't been this low in a while but we all know she has tons of talent so expect a big time bounce back today.

Miss Sangria She's razor sharp right now and proved it again on Tuesday finishing a bang up second to Top Of Her Trade. She also remains at same level and Adam knows her well so expect another good result.

Lock Her Up She's been on an incredible roll and has won three straight for Kenny. Moving on up and meets a strong group but her form is excellent and we aren't about to leave her out.

Most Probable Arc Light

Race 13 6-4-2

Screen Test Blasted off the wings last week and made every call a winning one scoring in 1:56.4. He's assigned post six this week and we'll see what Corey does but if they fire home in 28.1 again could triple up.

Burn Out Hanover Got a perfect pocket trip last time and closed in a snappy 28.1 to get the silver. Gets the same post this week and adds Dowling so we think they have a huge shot to get it all.

Rose Run Quest Didn't have much luck in Ontario but has been a top performer in the Maritimes. He did have five wins in 2020 and a record of 1:52.1 so we have to include him in our top three.

Race 14 7-3-8

Rockin Indy Was issued a parking ticket on Tuesday night and still only two lengths away at the wire. Drops down and moves outside but we think Corey works out a trip and they rebound with a win.

Dam Lucky Good effort on New Year's Eve where he was covered up the whole way and finished second. He takes a slight hike and the Blue Knight returns so they could be first, second, or third.

Mantario We liked his chances last time and he raced well closing in a brisk 28.1 to get the show spot. He's on the fence and will likely be coming from the back but could sweep them late.
