

Race 1 4-3-1

Cinder Angelina Was the model of consistency the first part of the season but has hit a rough patch lately. We think she turns it all around today.

Jays Little Spark Bottom of the class ladder and reunites with Spence. We think they will be heard from.

Bugtown Superstar We like this mare with rail control.

Race 2 2-3-5

Starshipsalicia – Had a nice win her last start and we see a repeat performance tonight.

Candy Apple Red If anyone upsets our top pick it should be her.

A Little Sunshine Hits an easier group than she has been facing so she could be a major player.

Value Play A Little Sunshine

Race 3 1-2-4

Darlington Hanover Just put in a strong qualifier and anything close to that again should put her in the winner's circle.

Quivers Hanover Not the safest play but if she keeps it all together she looms a major danger.

Goodgraciousileen Hit the triactor her last two and we see no reason she won't do it again.

Race 4 6-5-3

Lonewolf Currier If he behaves this race will be over before it starts.

Heart And Guts Has been racing well and could just get it all in here.

Sharks Play Finished a nice third last week at this level. Adding Campbell to the seat puts his chances way up.

Most Probable Lonewolf Currier

Race 5 8-3-6

Starshipzodiac This guy just gets better and better every start and the post position is really the only thing not to like.

Courageux Fell short off the front his last race but we see him getting a big slice tonight.

Jafar Du Lac Moves out a few positions but has hit the board every start this year and with some live flow will be a contender.

Race 6 3-6-1

Betterthanglamor Faces her biggest test to date on the East Coast but her confidence is sky high so we will side her way.

Rock The Baby Makes a sizeable drop in class and we know how good she can be so watch out for her.

La Vie En Rose Rail control and Campbell makes her hard to leave out.

Race 7 6-4-3

Phil Dorleans Has a pair of good tighteners under his belt so we say tonight is picture time.

Tylers Beach Boy Has a large shot to get it all.

Gringo Star Had a test run his last start free-legged and trainer Sweet has elected to leave the hobbles off so we see him being even stronger tonight.

Race 8 1-6-3

Flowersonthebeach We've sided with him a couple times and he hasn't delivered but we know he is sitting on a big trip so we'll go his way again.

GA Speed Sammy Likely will be on top of many of your tickets and with good reason. He will be hard to deny.

Poplar Artie Has been racing very well from the Myers camp and with Campbell remaining in the seat we see them as prime players again.

Longshot Play Pictonian Storm

Race 9 2-3-5

Animal Kingdom If Dowling can set him up on the lead he will be very hard to get past.

Wild River Coyote Hasn't raced in nearly a month but those 1:54 trips are hard to ignore so we'll place him second.

Southwind Bronn This short field will be right up his alley so expect to see him in the thick of it.

Race 10 5-4-6

Manlicious Got nailed late his last start but we think he could go all the way tonight.

Silver Jake Always a player at this level and we are not about to leave him out.

Ironside Seelster On top of his game his last three with a win and two seconds. He will be heard from.

Race 11 1-2-5

Three Truths Was locked in solid his last start at Exhibition Park Raceway and had to settle for second. He will be excited to see some open air in his face tonight so we see them going all the way to the winner's circle.

Moonwriter Is likely heading to the lead but will have to figure out a way to shake loose of the rail horse at some point. Could be tricky but he is a top contender.

My Land Was third his last two starts against similar company. Take a hard look at him.

Race 12 3-1-7

Oakrock Eldorado The relocation process should be over now and we know how much driver Sweet likes putting free-legged Rambarans on the lead. Top call.

Shifting Views Gets the rail and adds MacPherson to the bike. Worth considering.

Premier Joy A Could very easily be the favourite again tonight but after that last start we are a little gun shy so we'll call for a minor share.
